

New name, new look – same great quality products

Anvil & Smith–Cooper International are now ASC Engineered Solutions

In March 2021, we became ASC Engineered Solutions – a new brand for a united, success-focused solutions provider. We’re honoring our legacy and moving forward towards our ambitious goals and a bright future.

We’re making investments in tools and technologies that make your job easier, like our ever-expanding BIM and CAD library, with flexible files customizable to your project and preferred software program. Our revamped website offers registered users on-demand inventory and pricing information and is easier to navigate and search than ever.

We’re proud to supply high-quality products and trusted brands, both domestic made and globally sourced, that impart safety and reliability for the industries we serve.
